

CHAPMAN LONE CYCLIST TO RETAIN HIS CROWN DURING 1922 SEASON

Racing cyclists were kept active during 1922. With tracks running in several eastern cities and six-day races in New York and Chicago, the past year has been a most successful one for the riders and the promoters alike might be said to have been a success. New York fans have in the past year satisfied their craving for outdoor racing by taking in the road races run in the Metropolitan district, or journeyed over to the Newark velodrome, where racing was conducted twice a week.

This year they had their own track when the New York velodrome was opened on Decoration day.

Keen interest of the fans in both outdoor and indoor racing was an outstanding feature of the year. Newark velodrome, New York velodrome, club and six-day racing were offered the cyclists fans almost throughout the year. Two six-day races at Madison Square Garden drew wonderful crowds. The first one in March was won by Alfred Grenda and Reggie McNamara. The race just finished last week was accounted for by Alfred Goulet and Gastone Beloni, the American-Italian pair. Two six-day affairs were also run in Chicago. In February, Willie Goulet and David Latta, New Yorkers, won. In a race run in November Alfred Goulet and Ernest Kooker, a Chicago rider, were the victors.

George Chapman, of Newark, N. J., was the only champion to retain his crown during the year. Chapman, who accounted for the motor-paced championship in 1920 and 1921, won again this year.

In the professional sprint class, Willie Spencer, now of Newark, won with Ray Eaton, title holder in 1921, second and Arthur Spencer, champion in 1917 and 1920, third.

Two races were run for the so-called middle-distance championship. Alfred Goulet winning the ten-mile and Alfred Grenda taking the twenty-five mile. Willie Goulet, a Newark lad, accounted for the amateur championship.

New Records Made.
Anthony Beckman, a Secaucus, N. J., amateur, proved to be the best record breaker of the year. Beckman bettered four records of the road. He ran 12.1 seconds for an unpaired quarter mile and 1.12 for an unpaired three miles. George Menzer, of West Hoboken, also did well. He ran 1.5 for the unpaired quarter the same distance as Beckman made his time. Beckman, in competition, did twenty-five miles in one hour and 29.5 seconds and sixty miles in 2:44.30. Monroe Nelson, Chicago, did 100 miles in competition in 4:24.30. In the six-day races, Beckman made his time. In Brooklyn, he bettered the quarter-mile unpaired competitive mark by doing 2.5 seconds.

On the track Roy Moback, Chicago, bettered the record for the ten-mile race to 1.55 at, taking 5.5 seconds from the former mark. Alfred Goulet registered the new record for the year among the pros. Goulet established a mark for a human-paced race for ten miles, his time being 1:42.5.

Leontius Orskow, a Buffalo amateur, made two flat foot records. 1.4 mile in 1:35.5 and 1.2 mile in 1:16.5, both better in competition.

Manager Pat Moran had proposed to have the team leave here the first of March. The Reds will start south on March 15.

SHUGRUE OFFERED BOTT WITH WELLINS OR DUNDEE
Waterbury, Dec. 20.—Johnny Shugrue made such a hit in Madison Square Garden last Friday night that Matchmaker Frank Flourney called him up last night and asked him to go on in the main bout against either Joe Wellins or John Dundee at the Garden Friday night. Johnny turned down the offer, saying he desired a rest of a week, before resuming training for another stiff bout. Matchmaker Flourney then suggested

THE SPITBALL IS BARRED BY THE "BIG THREE"
The poor old spitball is having its last fling. It is being driven not only from professional baseball but from intercollegiate circles as well. Recently it was learned that there is an agreement among Harvard, Yale and Princeton not to use the spitball in their annual series.
The Big Three have gone further than the major leagues in their crusade against the spitball.
While the National and American agreement prohibits the use of the spitball by newcomers it permits its being thrown by pitchers who were using it in the majors before the rule was passed. The Big Three, however, have barred the spitball entirely from their series. This, it is believed, particularly affects Yale, which in Hickey has quite an able hurler of the spitball.
Harvard, Yale and Princeton further have agreed that should they desire to use a spitball pitcher against a team outside of the Big Three written permission must be obtained from that college. This makes it look as if the intention is to wipe out the spitball delivery altogether in time. Of course, the shiny ball and other freak deliveries prohibited by the major leagues are also illegal in the Big Three series.
The spitball never has been very popular among the colleges and has been used only by a few hurlers since the majors acted against it. Perhaps the New York Yankees, who pitched for Dartmouth a few years ago. Cuddy got a trial with the Red Sox and, with his splitter barred, proved a dismal failure. Carroll, the Jersey City lad who as a freshman was a sensation with Holy Cross last season, is said to have a great splitter.

Woodworth was the leading second baseman of the Three Eye League, his fielding average of .98 being made by three Eye League scores. Woodworth participated in 100 or more games since 1910. The past year was his first in professional baseball.

Harry Greb is going to resume fist activities again shortly after the first of the new year, but it is a question whether he will consent to meet Gene Tunney. At present Greb is matched with James Delaney, the young middleweight protégé of Mike Gibbons. If Delaney is half the boxer Gibbons appears to think he is Greb will have a busy evening. "I'll give a written guarantee that the mother will return for the child." Other witnesses stated that Becker had told them on April 7, that his wife had left him the night before.

"I was suspicious," Mrs. Linder testified. "I knew it couldn't be true that Jennie ran away, because she was too good a mother and too devoted to her children."

TO TEST CONNECTICUT TAX ON MCMULLEN ESTATE
Hartford, Dec. 20.—To test the constitutionality of the Connecticut statute under which the so-called penalty tax is assessed in this state, the Assistant Tax Commissioner Charles S. Holcomb, will appear before the United States supreme court in Washington on January 2 to contest an appeal of the Bankers Trust company, and other parties, to a tax of $10,285.46, levied by the state against the estate of Lena McMullen, of Norwalk. The bank is suing William H. Blodgett, as tax commissioner. The estate is valued at $24,237.48. The Bankers Trust company is executor. Miss McMullen died in May, 1919.

The penalty tax on estates is levied on taxable property which has escaped taxation but which is brought to light on the death of its owner. The state's claim is that the decedent was under obligation to return her taxable property for local taxation in the town where she was a resident.
The report of the state treasurer for the year ending June 30 shows that this tax has brought back into the state more than $1,000,000 since its inauguration several years ago.
Of this the state's share was 30 percent, the remainder going to the towns where the decedents were residents.

SEARCHING FOR BANDITS WHO GOT $200,000 IN DENVER
Denver, Colo., Dec. 20.—A stolen automobile or a stolen license plate, and another car abandoned near the scene of the $200,000 United States mint robbery, were the chief objects of investigation by the police today in their search for the three bandits in Monday's hold-up. Photographs of fingerprints on the abandoned car are being taken in the belief that bandits had it placed there for use in emergency.
All nearby garages are being checked for a stolen car and a stolen license plate. The Colorado tag on the bandit's car having been reported $1,000, the tag taken from a Brighton, Colo. grocer's machine a month ago.
The bloody shotgun dropped from the bandit car as it sped away from the scene of the robbery, had been purchased about five years ago from a local hardware store. No record of the name of the purchaser was kept by the store, however, and efforts now are being made to trace the purchase of the gun from a pawn shop by the bandits.

Chief of Police H. R. Williams still inclines to the theory that the robbery was the work of local highwaymen.

EXPLOSION OF GRAIN BIN AT WEST ST. JOHN, N. B.

Employees of the elevator were thrown against walls and orders by the blast, and were under a shower of concrete, but none was hurt. 40 DEGREES BELOW ZERO WAS REGISTERED IN MAINE
Portland, Maine, Dec. 20.—A cold wave today paved the way for the official opening of winter on Friday in Maine. Forty degrees below zero at Richmond in Sagadahoc county, duplicated at Bridgton in Cumberland county, was the lowest unofficial temperature noted in early reports. Thirty-two degrees below at Fort Fairfield made Astorbrook county a close competitor for honors with the two counties on the coast.

In the suburbs Northam and Westbrook reported 18 below and Yarmouth Junction 20. 17 Knox county, the readings were 28 below at Oyster river in Warren and 23 below at Glen Cove, Rockport.

EIGHT UNION TRAINMEN CONVICTED OF CONSPIRACY
Los Angeles, Dec. 20.—Eight union trainmen leaders were convicted of conspiracy to obstruct interstate commerce for their activities in connection with a strike last August against the Santa Fe by verdict of a jury in the United States district court here today. In this strike some twenty trains were abandoned in the California-Arizona desert, leaving the passengers stranded.
Sentences will be imposed next Tuesday. The defendants all reside in Needles, Cal. The accusation against the men was that they plotted to bring about a tie-up of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe trains to assist the railroad shopmen men who had been on strike since July 1 last.
About twenty trains were abandoned at various points in the desert country of southern California and western Arizona. The walkout lasted nine days but trains were moved in the meantime by railroad officials, passengers reaching their destination from three to five days late.
Attorney General Daugherty began an investigation which resulted in the indictment of the eight men. Two were connected with shopcraft organizations and the others with the "Big Four" brotherhoods.
The government sought to prove by telegrams that the eight defendants had brought about the walkout. This was denied by them. They declared the walkout was directed by a mass meeting of brotherhood men who believed that their lives were endangered by having defective equipment assigned to them and by the presence of armed guards.

ACTION NOT SANCTIONED BY THE BROTHERHOOD
Chicago, Dec. 20.—William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, when informed of the conviction in Los Angeles of eight trainmen who deserted their trains in the desert during the shopmen's strike last summer, said he was "not surprised," and that such violations of contract never were sanctioned by his organization.
"It will be recalled," said Mr. Lee, "that when certain members of our organization left their trains we sent a vice president out to California to order them back to work. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has never sanctioned violation of a contract."
